REGISTRATIONS ARE NOW OPEN

for the Celebrants Aotearoa Virtual Conference and AGM

This conference is open to both members and non-members of Celebrants Aotearoa. If you have a passion for celebrant work of any description or are just keen to learn more about the work a celebrant does, we invite you to come along to this event.

Theme

Sustaining our work and ourselves as celebrants
Kia tautīneia ā tātou mahi, me tātou anō hei kaiārahi ritenga

Date

Sunday 31 July, 9am – 3.30pm (including AGM)

Venue

You have the choice to attend from the comfort of your own home; or to attend a branch huddle where they are offered

The National Executive is excited to bring Celebrants Aotearoa members our 2nd virtual conference.

We sincerely hope this virtual offering will enable you to attend; either together with members of your branch in huddles or from the comfort of your own home.

We have a streamlined programme of 3 plenary sessions throughout the day, alongside the AGM and presentations by Jeff Montgomery – Registrar General for BDM and Ant Burke from the AFCC.

The day concludes at 3.15pm with closing remarks from the President. A conversational sharing space, drinks and dinner to follow are optional branch/huddle activities.

We look forward to a full and enjoyable day with you.

Registration is for the full day. If you need to take a break from the ZOOM, please do so and look after your own comfort.

All individuals attending the conference need to register through Humanitix and pay individually, even if Lounge Lizards end up viewing the conference with a celebrant colleague. This will ensure all costs in providing this conference for you are covered such as speaker fees, technology etc.

CONFERENCE

31 JULY

SUSTAINING OUR WORK AND OURSELVES AS CELEBRANTS
Kia tautineia ā tātou mahi, me tātou anō hei kaiārahi ritenga

Master of Ceremonies

Pinky Agnew

Writer, actor, MC, speaker & celebrant

Since becoming a celebrant, Pinky has published two collections of readings for ceremonies. In 2004 she became a Member of the New Zealand Order of Merit (MNZM).

Keynote speaker

Dr. Hetty Rodenburg

hetty.rodensburg@xtra.co.nz

The art of communication: navigating difficult conversations

Dr. Hetty Rodenburg graduated from Leyden University, Holland. After working in Holland and the USA she arrived in New Zealand in 1971.

She practiced as a General Practitioner until 1998. During that time she developed an interest in grief counselling, the effects of trauma on psychological, physical and spiritual health and 'working' with terminally ill patients.

Over the years Hetty has given numerous presentations on these topics. She worked and trained with Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross and facilitated Kubler-Ross's workshops in New Zealand and overseas until 2001.

At present she is in private practice and involved with grief counselling, professional supervision, and the emotional and spiritual care of people diagnosed with life threatening illness.

She is frequently invited to give presentations and group-interactive teaching in New Zealand and overseas.

Plenary speakers

Gaylene Denford-Wood

Mindfulness of Seminar

Embodying mindfulness through the creativity of Seminar

A fifth generation, South Island Kiwi, I was born the year tea, sugar and meat rationing was abolished and farm-raised as post-war life improved, especially for women. I've married, raised children, pioneered a school, a new degree at AUT, and now (similar to celebrants), I strive to serve with the power of words!

Tricia Hendry

www.triciahendry.com

Ways to support yourself as you support others – using professional self-care as a strategic resilience tool

Tricia is a published writer, educator, consultant, and presenter specialising in issues of grief and trauma, professional self-care, mental health & wellbeing, and resilience. She has lived experience of loss and trauma herself and understands the complexity and challenge unwanted life changes bring. Formerly Deputy Chief Executive of the national support agency Skylight, Tricia currently works on resource, education, and policy projects for a range of government agencies and NGOs. She is also a qualified professional supervisor of front line professionals.

Session speakers

Jeff Montgomery

Births, Deaths & Marriages

Jeff is New Zealand's Registrar-General of BDM and Citizenship. He leads a team of almost 500 staff providing life event and identity services to all New Zealanders and those wishing to be a New Zealander.

Ant Burke

Australian Federation of Civil Celebrants

Learning from the challenges of COVID – the experience for Australian celebrants

Anthony Burke, also known as Ant, is a highly sought Celebrant, Motivational Speaker, MC, and Business Coach from the beautiful Hunter Valley in Australia. He is the National President of Australia's largest celebrant association, elected Councillor for Cessnock City Council, and someone who is passionate in creating opportunities for others. He brings a light-hearted touch and an ability to inspire and motivate, his motto: "Be you because everyone else is taken."

Ant is a father to two boys, Kyan and Harlen, and lives a life full of kindness, love, family and friends.
